You can find common foldable printed road maps and large road maps in bound atlas form. You don't make a map into a mod. Once it is exported load up coh 2 and then you would publish it from there... I did this, and still it does not show up in Manage or when I try to select a map. There should be 9 files. I think it was the mp/name/ thing that fixed it I user is browsing this thread: 1 guest Page 2 UKF USF OKW SOV OST Posts: 1442 | Subs: 4 if you are trying to get an actual mod that you made or did to work on the map, you first need to select the map you want then go to options and select the tuning pack that you want to use, you don't need to do anything else. On physical geographic area maps, the shapes and symbols likely show the location for towns and cities, rivers and lakes, government buildings, county borders, and highways. There are reference maps, political maps, population maps, gender maps, and more. Although the name of the properties of the scenarios can be w / e that you want, since that is the name that appears in the Modding Hub and in the game, by default it will be the name of the map in which it saved it. Where do I put the exported file? Edit: 2. Execute the game also with -Dev ON does not literally do nothing when it comes to your map, it is better to leave it out, as it is not necessary for mapping. You could be in an important metropolitan area and consult the Metro map, as an alternative to take a bus or a car. Trying to open the map, and save it as a different name 'Test1A', when you save it in a folder inside the MP folder called 'Test1A' and when you save it, export it. However, printed maps and legends can often guide us on our ways that small screens can not. For example, look at a bigger map can give travelers an idea of what is in the Surrounding area, and not only on the direct route to the place. This value to highlight spatial relationships is a key asset for a legend of printed maps. Map legends There are many different types of maps, so the legend of the map varies according to the purpose of the map. I do not think I'm using any active mod...
